

EAN

CHIROPRACTORS ENJOINED AND SUE FOR APPEAL

Chancellor Heiskell Holds That Must Be Examined Before Practicing — Appeal Sus- pends Ruling.

Six chiropractors practising in Memphis were enjoined from such practice by Chancellor Heiskell Wednesday morning in a decision rendered in a case brought against them by Dr. K. Norman, on behalf of the osteopaths of Memphis, and Dr. A. B. DeLoach on behalf of the state medical board. Chancellor Heiskell held that the act of 1919 made necessary an examination before the state board of all persons practicing a healing art and that chiropractors were therefore liable was asked for by the six defendants and granted by Chancellor Heiskell. Injunction granted by the court is aside by the appeal pending final action by the supreme court.

The six chiropractors who were made defendants in the suit are:

Elmer Phillebaum, Maude Hastin
H. W. Rafferty, Edwin S. Pierce

Several hearings have occurred before Chancellor Helaski, the attorney for the defense endeavoring to show court that the chiropractors were within the jurisdiction of the state medical board while William P. Blum representing Dr. Norman and Dr. Leach taking the viewpoint that the chiropractors were not specified in the law as enacted by the state legislature that they were embraced in

Attorneys for the chiropractors declared Wednesday that their appeal to the supreme court would be perfect immediately and an early hearing before the higher court sought. Meanwhile, all chiropractors in the city

It was pointed out during the course of the hearings that the science of chiropractic consisted of adjustment of the spinal column as a means of relieving ills that beset the human body. Admission was made in court that most of the practitioners in Memphis undergone any examination before state board.

LIVE STOCK DYING

ARE UNDER

ARE UNDERF
Farmers of Territory Can Find Enough Corn to Supp
Lack of Feed.

Shortage of corn and other feedstuffs is causing a heavy loss of cattle work stock on the farms of the Memphis territory, according to a statement issued Wednesday morning by C. Watson, market director of the Chamber of Commerce farm bureau. Owing to the failure of the corn crop and duce enough hay, the owners of a in the territory, Mr. Watson said.

had to look to other sections of country for feed to carry their ani-through the winter. The bureau received any number of inquiries farmers wanting to know where can purchase carloads of corn, but far extensive inquiries in Missouri

Shelby county communities are suffering with the other communities in the territory. Mr. Watson said, community alone having lost about 100 head of horses, mules and cattle in Dec. 30.

As a measure of relief Mr. Watson farmers of the territory. Wednesday, the bureau is urging the sowing of spring oats and the planting of early varieties of corn at the earliest possible time to proceed to sustain the stock in the event of a failure of the regular cotton and corn crops. The bureau is also recommending a ration of corn and cottonseed meal, which it hopes will help to sustain the stock.

The bulletin will urge as to the crops the planting of oats in February and March and the early corn in March 1.

PROBE TRANSPORT MISHAP
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Investigation of the cause of the disabling of a train, transporting a large quantity of explosives, which occurred on the Great Northern Railway near Minneapolis, Minn., on Jan. 18, is being conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

being made by an official board sitting at New York. The Powhatan was towed into Halifax late yesterday, announcing this today the war department said reports regarding Bolshevik activity by members of the transport crew or others on board had thus been proven without foundation.

FIND SHIP AFIRE.
LONDON, Jan. 28.—The American steamer West Imboden has reported wireless that a fire was discovered on her cargo yesterday. The ship's position was not given. The West Imboden, a shipping board steamer, gross, left Galveston Dec. 31 and arrived here yesterday. The crew and passengers are safe.

ME

The anti-ard-

including 21,000 bales of cotton, is operated by S. Sgitcovitch & Co.
Galveston.

THE WEATHER

Temperature
Hour.	Dry Bulb. Wet Bulb. Hum.
7 p.m. yesterday	44 42
7 a.m. today	32 30
Noon today	34 32

Maximum temperature, 44; minimum, 32. Sun sets today, 5:24 p.m.; rises tomorrow, 7:01 a.m. Moon sets 1:15 tonight. Precipitation, none.

Tennessee—Fair in west, cloudy in east, colder.
Mississippi—Cloudy, followed by weather, slightly colder in interior.
Arkansas—Fair, colder in south.
Alabama—Cloudy, probable rain in south, slightly cooler in interior.
Kentucky—Fair, colder in west.

Louisiana—Cloudy, colder in freezing in north.
Oklahoma—Fair, warmer.
East Texas—Cloudy, warmer interior.
West Texas—Fair, warmer.
North Carolina—Fair, except

South Carolina—Generally cloudy.
Georgia—Cloudy, colder in north.
Florida—Cloudy, probable local rain.
Kansas—Fair, warmer.